

My Plaintive Cry!

Hear my cry oh Lord!
Was worshipping you my folly?
Or is it that you don't exist
That I stand here for solace?

I ascended the peak,
To share my thoughts from there,
I'm stranded here for one week,
But you just don't seem to care.

Mother is missing,
Father is no more,
Brother's gone with dad,
And a ten year old is at your door.

I have lived just for a decade,
And now I'm dying of thirst and starvation.
Yesterday I had a family,
But from today I am an orphan.

Corpses lay all around me,
Copious tears are shed by who survive,
You took away my family,
Why have you kept me alive?

What is this curse you bestowed upon me?
Am I the victim of someone else's misdeeds?
If you're not the one to be blamed for all this,
Please don't let the devil succeed.
